Frédéric will also be responsible for leading Atalian's refinancing and pursuing its development in integrated facility management activities.

I would also like to thank Maximilien Pellegrini for all his hard work."

Frédéric Baverez said: "I am delighted and proud to take over as Executive Chairman of Atalian, which has established itself as a benchmark in outsourced services for industry and the service sector in the countries where it operates. With the confidence of our reference shareholder and with the support of our operational teams, I want to contribute to consolidating our development by taking advantage of the many opportunities offered by facility management, in particular by broadening the range of solutions we offer to our customers.
