

Norbert Moussart appointed CEO International of ATALIAN

Effective February 1, 2025, Norbert Moussart, who was previously in charge of Central and Eastern Europe, is appointed Chief Executive Officer International of the ATALIAN Group. Reporting to Frédéric Baverez, Chief Executive Officer of the ATALIAN Group, Norbert Moussart will be responsible for all Group operations outside France, and all international operating subsidiaries will be placed under his authority.

An engineer from the Ecole Nationale des Ponts et Chaussées, Norbert Moussart has over 30 years' international experience in the construction, services and industry sectors. He began his career in 1992 with the Bouygues Group, for which he held operational responsibilities outside France for more than 15 years, notably in Mozambique and Central Europe (Hungary, Poland). In 2009, he joined the HMY group, specialized in shopfitting, as Managing Director in charge of France, Italy and Belgium. From 2014 to 2017, he became Executive Chairman of KAEFER WANNER, the French subsidiary of the German KAEFER Group specializing in the supply of industrial services, particularly scaffolding and insulation.

Norbert Moussart joined ATALIAN in November 2017 to take charge of the Group's activities in Central and Eastern Europe, now 11 countries strong. He played a direct personal role in the Group's development in the zone, was able to cope nimbly with the Covid pandemic and then with the consequences of the war in Ukraine, and deployed great rigor in management.

Frédéric Baverez, Executive Chairman of the ATALIAN Group, welcomes this appointment :
« Norbert Moussart knows the Group and its businesses inside out, and has proven and recognized international experience. He has demonstrated remarkable leadership and management skills in Central and Eastern Europe. In line with the Group's strategy, Norbert's main objective will be to accelerate the profitable organic growth of our international activities in the Group's various businesses. With this in mind, he will focus in particular on improving the retention of our renewal contracts in each country, as well as on winning new customers or new contracts with existing customers ».

About ATALIAN

With sales of €2 billion, over 65,500 employees and a presence in 16 countries, ATALIAN is a leading independent European provider of outsourced services to companies and public authorities. The Group has over 20,000 customers in the service and industrial sectors. Its services are organized around several business lines: Facility Management, Cleaning, Security and Safety, Multi-Technical Maintenance & Energy Management, Handling, Reception.

For more information, please visit www.atalian.com.